

Step-by-step guide to transfer a project from gantto.com to tomsplanner.com

Dear Gantto user welcome to Tom's Planner! You can sign up for a (free) account on tomsplanner.com. To transfer a project from your Gantto account to your Tom's Planner account please follow the instructions below:

1. Export your schedule.

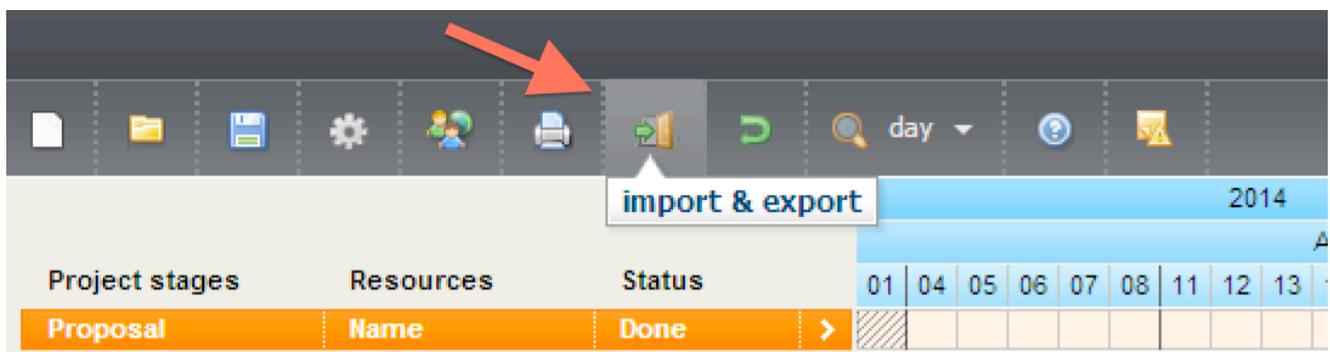

Open your project in Gantto, click on the 'file' button in the top toolbar and click on the 'export' button in the file menu.

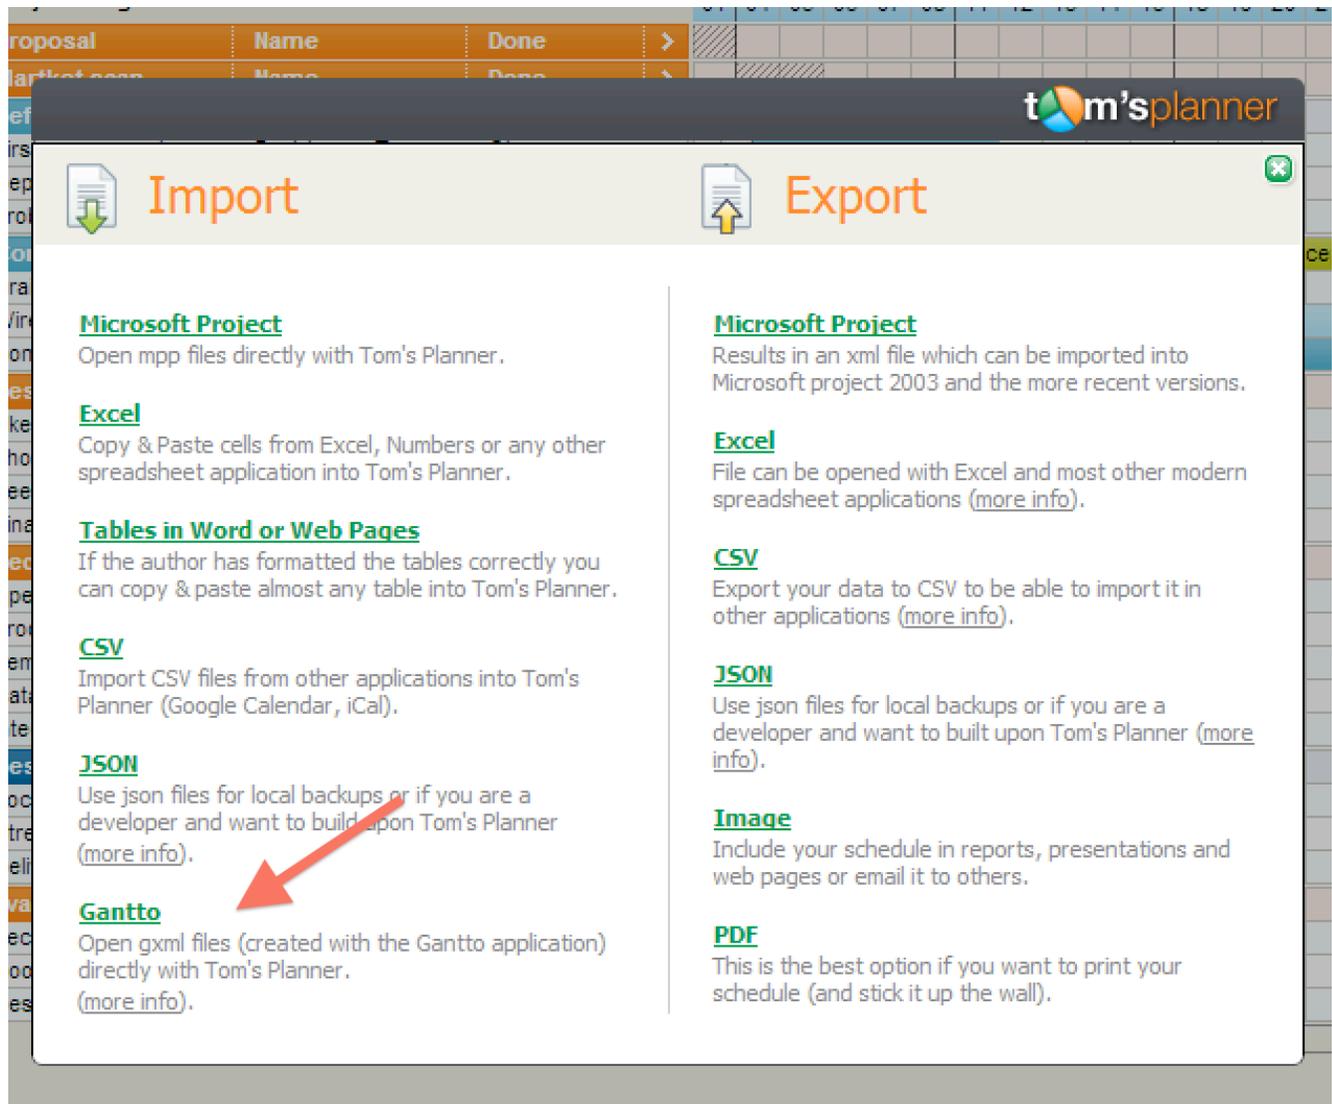

Your schedule will be saved on your computer as a text file with the file extension .gxml. This is the file you will need to import in Tom's Planner.

2. Import your schedule

Go to the Tom's Planner website, open the tool and log in with your (new) Tom's Planner account. Then click on the 'import & export' button in the top toolbar:

Then click on the 'Gantto' button in the 'import & export' panel and select the .gxml file on you computer you just created while exporting your project in Gantto:
